It compliments the principles taught in the Debt Freedom™ course. For those looking to have a way to manage their budget, the app walks you through just that. Customers begin with inserting their income then your necessity and discretionary expenses.

Finally, by adding details associated with their debts, they can work their way to debt freedom. The Budgeting App shows you how much money you have left over each month to apply to your debt snowball and pay off your debts quicker. Month after month, by using the app to track every dollar earned and spent, you can change your habits and see your progress.
